

T. R. DEFIES DOCTOR AND MAKES SPEECH

Opens Bull Moose Campaign in Pennsylvania, addressing 15,000 people

FLAYS THE DEMOCRATS AND REPUBLICANS TOO

Says Tariff Hasn't Lowered Cost of Living—Sings Senator Penrose

By telegraph to The Tribune.
Pittsburg, Pa., June 30.—Col. Roosevelt ignored his physician's instructions here tonight by making a speech in which he formerly opened the Progressive Party's campaign in Pennsylvania.

The former President spoke in behalf of Gifford Pinchot, the Bull Moose nominee for United States Senator. He also took occasion to laud the candidacy of Dean Davis, the Progressive nominee for Governor. "I am glad to speak for such men," said the Colonel. "By their lives they have honored the republic. It would be a supreme good fortune to have these gentlemen in public positions."

His voice showed traces of huskiness and he refrained from vigorous delivery which in the past has marked his public utterances.

Col. Roosevelt declared that the Democratic reduction of the tariff had not reduced the cost of living in the slightest degree, and he denounced the leaders of Democracy for not solving the truest question.

The Colonel arraigned President Wilson in his typical fashion. "The leaders of the Democratic party," he said "are pursuing the course that prevents the existence of prosperity. And they have not offered a single plan for passing prosperity around should prosperity come back to the people in spite of the administration."

The Republicans present applauded the Colonel's fusillade aimed at the Democratic party, but their mirth was shut off rather unexpectedly when he committed a verbal assault and battery on Boise Penrose, the old guard candidate for re-election to the United States Senate. This created a ripple of applause on the Democratic side of the crowd.

"Penrose stands for everything that decency forbids," snarled the Colonel. He is the type of politician that is rapidly becoming extinct. The day has passed when an office holder, elected by the people can break faith and then return to power with their consent.

"Penrose believes in only unfair methods and he will resort to the tactics of a thug to win his point. He is one of the very few undesirable Senators left in Washington and he is billed for oblivion."

"The Progressive party offers the people of Pennsylvania the best men chosen for office. And if these Progressive candidates are elected, they will not disgrace the state or the people who elected them."

"It is a simple delight for me to commend to you such men as Gifford Pinchot and my personal friend, Mr. Lewis. They are honest in politics just as they are in their business methods."

"If such men as Penrose goes back to the United States Senate this splendid state will convict itself of approving the disreputable record of a man who has no standing among the decent element of this country."

It is estimated that a crowd of 15,000 people heard Colonel Roosevelt's speech. It was the biggest gathering that has attended a political meeting during this campaign. It is believed that the crowd would have been double its size had the hall been large enough to accommodate them all. There was a procession several blocks long that marched as close to the building in which Colonel Roosevelt was speaking, as they could get, but when they learned that there was no possibility of admission, the crowd dispersed.

It was announced in yesterday's papers here that Colonel Roosevelt would address the Bull Moose meeting tonight, but intimate friends of the Chief Moose said it was not likely that the ex-president would ignore the warnings of his physician.

Dr. Lambert, who has been the Roosevelt family physician since before Mr. Roosevelt was elected president, accompanied him to Pittsburg and administered to his throat before the Colonel began his address.

Mr. Roosevelt promised Dr. Lambert that he would not exert himself

MARTIAL LAW PROCLAIMED OVER BOSNIA

Critical stage of disorder exists in the city where Rulers were Slain.

MOHAMMEDANS RAID STORES OF SERVANS.

Government impose a strict censorship and real facts are kept within.

By telegraph to The Tribune.
Vienna, June 29.—A critical stage of disorder exists tonight in Sarajevo, the Bosnian capital, where Archduke Francis Ferdinand and Consort were assassinated Sunday.

The Mohammed population are incensed against the Servians at whose door the blame is laid for the death of the Archduke and his wife, and they are plundering Servian stores and making other demonstrations.

Fearing more serious outbreaks the Government has proclaimed martial law, and imposed a strict censorship on all telegrams. Thus the actual happenings there following the tragedy are not fully known.

Vienna, June 29.—When news of the assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand was imparted to the aged emperor he exclaimed, "Terrible, terrible! I am spared nothing!"

The emperor was at Ischl, Upper Austria, recuperating from his recent illness when the news of the tragedy reached him. He suffered a profound shock and retired at once to his private apartments, after giving orders that everything should be in readiness for the return to the Palace of Schoenbrunn on tonight. The duke of Cumberland paid a visit of condolence yesterday.

The three young children of the archduke and duchess, who remained here with the aged emperor when their parents went to Bosnia, where they were in the gardens of the palace when the news arrived. No one had the heart to inform them of their bereavement.

The succession, if no change is made hereafter, now passes to Archduke Charles Francis, son of the late Archduke Otto and a nephew of Francis Ferdinand, who married Princess Zita of Parma. They have one son and one daughter.

Austrian opinion regards the tragedy as the result of a well-prepared conspiracy. It is asserted that when it became known at the Servian legation here that the archduke intended to go to Bosnia he was advised not to undertake the journey, as certain Servian desperadoes were planning an attempt against his life.

The archduke disregarded the warning and proceeded to Sarajevo last Wednesday. He took up his residence at a watering place near the Bosnian capital and attended various fetes as well as army maneuvers which ended Saturday. He issued an army order expressing great satisfaction at the maneuvers.

Telegrams are being received tonight from all parts of the empire announcing the immense sensation caused by the crime. All public festivities have been cancelled. Anti-Servian demonstrations occurred tonight outside the Servian legation, and stones were thrown at the residence of prominent Servians. Troops were ordered out to suppress the disorders.

It is reported here that several Bosnians and Serbs have been arrested at Sarajevo for complicity in the plot, which is said to have wide ramifications. The newspapers have issued special editions with black borders, expressing abhorrence of the crime. The Wiener Zeitung pays warm tribute to the extraordinary zeal and devotion to the empire displayed by the archduke, to whose indefatigable care, it says, were due the great developments of recent years in the Austrian Army and Navy.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Cowan and children, and Miss Hazel O'Neal, departed on the Cape Girardeau Tuesday evening for St. Louis, where they will visit with relatives and friends for a week or ten days.

and he kept his promise with but few exceptions.

Twice during the discussion of Boise Penrose the speaker forgot himself and his voice simply thundered through the great hall. He also reached a high pitch when he discussed the Democratic administration's efforts to reduce the high cost of living.

REV. BEMBURG'S BABY IS SHOT BY AIR RIFLE

Master Guenther, four years old, wounded in the head while at play.

BULLET FLATTENS AND SAVES BABY'S LIFE.

Doctor finds lead under the scalp and almost through child's skull.

Guenther Bemburg, three years old, the son of the Rev. Dr. Fred Bemburg, pastor of the German Evangelical church, was shot with an air rifle while at play Monday afternoon and seriously wounded.

The bullet, which was of a small caliber, struck in the child just above the right temple, imbedding itself under the scalp. Owing to the fact that the bullet flattened it would have pierced the skull and entered the brain.

Dr. J. C. Vorbeck, who was summoned to the Bemburg residence, found that a slight surgical operation was necessary to remove the bullet.

He discovered that the bullet had made a deep indentation in the skull just at a vital spot, and he says that the child's life was saved only by the bullet flattening. He believes, however, that the injury to the skull is slight and he does not anticipate future trouble.

Several stitches were taken just above the baby's temple, but Dr. Vorbeck pronounced the wound not serious unless something unforeseen develops.

Little Guenther was at play when the accident occurred. He joined a party of children just across the street from Dr. Bemburg's residence at 33 South Ellis. After a time another child living in the neighborhood, and carrying an air gun, joined the party.

The newcomer amused the children by firing at birds for quite a while. It afforded great sport for the little spectators and Master Guenther Bemburg was the most enthusiastic one of all.

It is supposed that the weapon was accidentally discharged, striking the Venberg lad, but efforts of The Tribune to ascertain this fact last night were unsuccessful.

Neighbors heard the child scream and the excited cries of the other children brought assistance hastily to the scene.

The little boy was carried to the home of his parents and Dr. Vorbeck summoned. After his son's wound had been attended to and pronounced not necessarily serious, Mr. Bemburg said the shooting was an accident.

"It is a very dangerous practice," said Dr. Bemburg, "for people to permit their children to carry weapons of this kind. Of course this accident was not due to the vicious act of anyone, but it might have resulted in a tragedy."

"Parents make a harmless child dangerous to a whole community when they permit him to carry a loaded gun. This is a practice that is innocently permitted by parents, but it should be stopped. No one knows when the weapon will be accidentally discharged and fatally wound someone."

"I am thankful that my little son is alive, but this accident teaches every mother and father a serious lesson. I hope the danger of these weapons will be realized by every mother and father and that efforts will be made by all to prevent a repetition."

CAPE PARTY ON HOLIDAY HUNT

In keeping up with their established custom, a party of young men departed Wednesday evening for the Upper College Farm, where they will hold their third annual Fourth of July encampment on the banks of the Big Flora. The members of the party were Jack Fuerth, Frank Fuerth, Abie Bechel, George Hoodman, Shell Wiles, Ray Kane, Cohen Schrader, and Mack the cook. They were provided with complete camping equipment as well as guns and fishing tackle. They will be out several days, and expect to return to the Cape on Monday morning.

Chris Freeman returned Wednesday afternoon from a hunting trip to Delta. He reports that squirrels are scarce and that he had poor success.

WM. F. BAUMAN HAS VANISHED; ALARM IS FELT

Mother of Retired Cigar Man Collapses From Worry Over His Absence

LEFT NEIGHBOR NOTE HE WAS GOING AWAY

Took Fourteen-Year-Old Son and Disappeared Sunday—Health Had Been Failing

William F. Bauman, a well-to-do retired cigar manufacturer of Cape Girardeau, disappeared rather mysteriously Sunday, taking Alvin, one of his two sons, with him.

His departure marked the climax of a series of mishaps which began with a fall on the ice last winter which broke his left leg and this accident was followed by a paralytic stroke a few months later.

Whither Mr. Bauman went, not even Mrs. Adeline Bauman, his mother, and with whom he lived, knows. The shock and worry caused by his mysterious absence caused Mrs. Bauman to suffer a nervous collapse yesterday and she was removed to the St. Francis hospital. Owing to her advanced age it is feared the shock may result disastrously to her.

At the request of the attending physician, Robert Bauman, a brother of the missing man, has been summoned from his home in Belleville, Ill., and he will reach this city within a short time to be at his mother's bedside and to take steps toward instituting a search for his brother.

The missing man did not discuss his proposed departure with either friends or relatives. But he had planned in advance. When his son Alvin, who is 14 years old, left the house with his father Sunday, it was presumed that they were going for a walk.

When they did not return late in the day, Mrs. Bauman became alarmed and informed the neighbors. Mrs. J. Roelker, who lives next door to the Bauman residence, informed the aged mother that she had found a message from the missing son. The message was placed under the front door of the Roelker home and it read:

"Look after my mother. I have done all that I can for her. I am gone."

The message was signed "W. F. Bauman." It did not state what his designation would be or when he expected to return. That was the last message received by his relatives from Bauman.

Mr. Alois Zimmer of 516 Good Hope street, a brother-in-law of the missing man, does not believe any harm has come to Mr. Bauman. He expects to hear from his brother-in-law within a very short time, and he thinks the first letter will clear up the mysterious features of his disappearance. "I am certain my brother-in-law is all right," said Mr. Zimmer last night.

"There is no reason for thinking otherwise. He had not complained recently of being in ill health and he is reasonably well fixed financially. His departure has caused his relatives much alarm, but I feel certain everything will come out all right."

Friends of Mr. Bauman are much concerned over his absence. The fact, however, that he is accompanied by his son is looked upon with favor.

But the fact that Mr. Bauman has suffered recently from insomnia has aggravated the worry of his relatives. He has not been in the best of health since his wife died about two years ago, and at times has been somewhat morose.

Last winter he spent most of his time confined to his bed. While on his way to his cigar factory at 626 Good Hope street, he slipped on the sleet covered walk and fell with such force that he broke a leg. The shock of this fall, coupled with the fracture, kept him confined indoors for a long time.

When he did finally recover, his health seemed impaired. And a short time after his recovery from the fall, his left arm became paralyzed. His physicians said this stroke was the result of the fall. Since then he has worried about his declining health and at times has shown pronounced evidences of acute melancholia.

Only a few weeks ago he disposed of his cigar business and has not attempted to transact business since. He has spent much of his time recently at home in company with his mother at 824 Merriweather street.

NO MORE MONEY IS SUBSCRIBED FOR HUGE PLANT

Commercial Club Committee Decides to Have Promoter Explain the Project

MANY FAVOR SCHEME HESITATE TO DONATE

Secretary Hinchey Thinks Another Meeting is Necessary Before Making Canvass

The Committee composed of M. D. Wilson, A. H. Hinchey and William Hirsch, appointed at the Commercial Club meeting Tuesday night for the purpose of soliciting financial support for the organization of the proposed big iron pipe factory and coke works, concluded that the method first chosen was ineffectual, and for that reason had a meeting called at the Commercial Club Wednesday night where the matter was again taken up and discussed by the small number present.

With the exception of a few there was a manifest lack of enthusiasm displayed, and judging from the manner in which the proposition has been received, heroic measures will be required to keep it alive much longer.

Chairman D. A. Glenn, Secretary A. H. Hinchey, M. D. Wilson and William Hirsch, each made a talk in support of the movement. Attorney L. L. Bowman was present, and after making some inquiry, expressed himself favorably toward the venture.

Secretary Hinchey stated that he had received a letter from Allen G. Wood, one of the men directly interested in the organization, in which it was stated that a construction company in Chicago had expressed a willingness to construct the plant and accept a considerable amount of company stock as part payment for their work.

He also stated that one of the local men who has already spent some money in the organization and work of the development company, and who voluntarily contributed $100 on Tuesday night, had telephoned that he would add another $100.

After the matter had been thoroughly gone over, those present were solicited for subscriptions, whereupon Attorney Bowman questioned the right, under the rules of the club, to solicit funds at a meeting of the Commercial Club.

He was advised by Mr. Hinchey that it was not a meeting of the Commercial Club, but rather a meeting of the "Desperation Committee," called for the purpose of meeting the business men in a body after a failure to impress them by soliciting individually.

Before the meeting adjourned it was decided to communicate with Mr. Wood who is now in Chicago and try to arrange for him to return to the Cape and personally explain the merits of his proposal to the business men who will be called into a meeting when he comes, which will perhaps be next Monday or Tuesday night.

MAY TIE UP BENTON STREET Right to Use Thoroughfare May be Disputed.

Since the proposed improvements on Benton street have come up, there has arisen an unexpected contingency which will perhaps be rather difficult to overcome.

It is claimed by some that Benton street has never been officially dedicated to the town, or at least that part of it which extends immediately West of the new high school building as it will stand when completed.

The high school grounds as endowed by Don Louis Lorimier many years ago, extend across Benton street as it is now located, and it is said that unless the school board sees fit to permit the use of that part of their land for street purposes, there is no means by which they can be compelled to do so.

Some who are interested in school affairs declare that on account of heavy expense recently incurred in the construction of new school buildings, the funds have become depleted and that it would work a hardship on the school board to bear the burden paying for the street improvements. For that reason they intimate that unless the city council makes some arrangement by which they will be relieved of that extra expense, the use of the property as a street will be denied the city.

GOVERNMENT HAS DEFICIT OF $1,043,189

McAdoo's Report for Year Shows Income Tax Short $25,000,000

SAYS 10 DAYS GRACE IS CAUSE OF SHORTAGE

Administration Pleased at First Report Made Under the New Tariff Law

By telegraph to The Tribune.

Washington, July 1.—The statement of Secretary McAdoo of the Treasury Department made today shows the receipts and disbursements for the fiscal year. The receipts for the year were $734,343,700, and the disbursements, $790,559,248. The Panama Canal payments amounted to $34,826,941, causing a deficit of $1,043,189.

The income tax yielded $25,000,000 less than had been expected by Mr. McAdoo.

But the Secretary believes almost the $25,000,000 will be collected within the next ten days. He allowed delinquents ten days grace and for this reason he believes there is considerable money now enroute to the government treasury.

Treasury department officials declare they are exceedingly gratified with the results for the first fiscal year under the new tariff and the income law, and they predict that better results will be obtained in the following year.

The blame for the deficit in revenue is placed upon the provisions of the income law which gives ten days grace for payment after the close of the fiscal year before penalties attach.

There was a failure to pay approximately $3,500,000 in taxes which has been assessed against corporations, and individuals and which should be paid by midnight last night. Mr. McAdoo contends that had this amount been paid on time there would have been a surplus for the fiscal year of approximately $2,500,000, against a surplus in 1912 of $1,897,000 and a deficit for 1913 of $400,000.

FINDS CHILD AFTER 19 YEARS.

Missouri Farmer Sees Daughter for First Time.

Carthage, Mo., June 30.—A search of nearly nineteen years ended at the Frisco depot in Carthage last night when James Keith, a farmer, residing near Carthage, for the first time he held his daughter, Mildred 20 years old, whom he had been told had died in infancy.

Keith and his wife resided in Poplar Bluff, Mo. Six months after their marriage about twenty-two years ago they separated. The wife went to her parents. Later the child was born. He was told she died in infancy. At first he was inclined to doubt the story, but later, when he could find no trace of the mother and the child he gave up. Later he obtained a divorce and came to Jasper County. The child grew to womanhood. When she was apprised of the story of her parents' early life she sought to find her father. After years of effort she wrote to the city clerk at Poplar Bluff. He had heard that Keith resided near Carthage and learned that Keith was still in this district. Miss Keith, now 20 years old, is employed as nurse in a hospital in Anna, Ill. When she and her father had exchanged telegrams she took the first train to Carthage. She was reared by her grandparents. The daughter will make her home with her father.

ORAN FRISCO AGENT ARRESTED

The City Marshal at Oran arrested the Frisco agent, Mr. A. Luckman, of that place, Wednesday morning for having permitted the crossing near the depot to become blocked. The depot was closed at two o'clock in the afternoon and Mr. Luckman was taken before a Justice of the Peace to answer to the charge.

The matter has been taken up by Mr. Mose Whybark, the Frisco attorney living in this city.

R. A. Westerfield, a prominent sawmill man of Canaan is in the Cape this week on a business trip.

Dix Walker of Oak Ridge was a Cape visitor Wednesday.
